About the Annual Meeting

In 2023, NAWM celebrated the 40th Anniversary of our creation and the first meeting held at the University of Florida College of Law in 1983. This was the first of many workshops NAWM conducted with a broad range of federal agencies such as the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Natural Resources Conservation Service, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The purpose of NAWM's annual State/Tribal/Federal Coordination (STFC) Meeting is to support state, federal, and tribal wetland program managers, and other wetland professionals as they respond to challenges in the coming year.

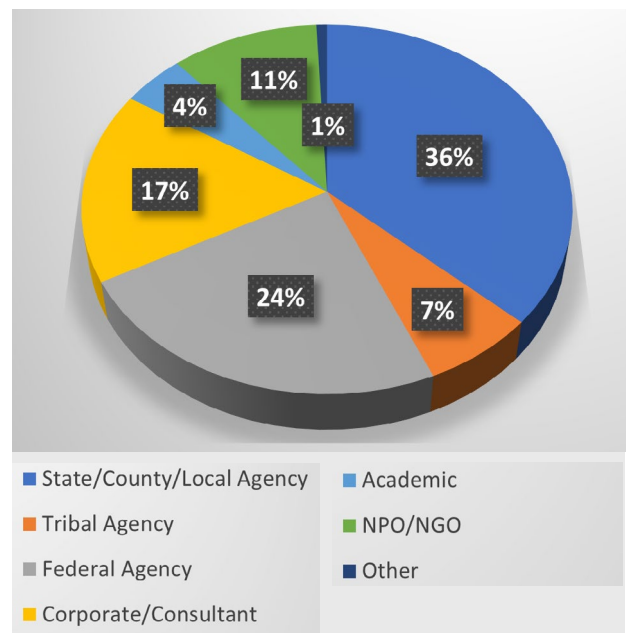

The 2024 STFC Meeting is returning to the National Conservation Training Center (NCTC) in Shepherdstown, WV. Located 60 miles away from DC, it's a venue popular with annual meeting attendees. It provides a variety of pre/post meeting space to engage with fellow wetlanders or encourage exploring the natural surroundings.

About Our Audience

NAWM's annual STFC meeting is unique from other annual conferences in that the STFC meeting is a much more intimate event with an average of 150 engaged participants. The audience is generally made up of professionals working for state, federal, or tribal governments, with representatives from the non-profit, academic, and private sectors. Audience members are generally well-educated with a mix of seasoned professionals and those new to their careers.
